Dear sirs,

as already underlined in AEEG letter of last 30 August, your possible decision on entry-exit gas tariffs has important consequences on the Italian gas system and we would have appreciated a better understanding on the grounds behind the reform. For this reason, we kindly asked you to provide us with information on the methodology you applied to allocate network costs and to derive tariff values, in order to be able to take part in your consultation process in a more efficient way.

Unfortunately, the consultation period has expired and we have not received yet any answer from your side. The European market has therefore missed an important chance for an effective cooperation between regulators.

Best regards,

Guido Bortoni
