Dear Sir or Madam,

Thank for having made available to us the draft below, please find hereafter our comments and proposals about it:

- Section 12, (3): we believe that the withdrawal of capacity in case of underused capacity should not be done globally on all system users of a given Balancing Group, since it is possible for a system user to transfer capacity to a Balancing Group without having control on the use of this transferred capacity by the relevant Balancing Group Manager: in that case the system user could be impacted by this withdrawal while not being responsible for the underutilization of the capacity. Some mechanisms should be put in place to allow for such system users to be protected from that type of situation, for instance the possibility for the Balancing Group Manager to decide which capacity is to be withdrawn.
- Section 12, (4): We believe a Balancing Group Manager should also be able, during the 14 days after the first written notification stating that his capacity will be withdrawn, to offer by himself its unused firm capacity as secondary capacity on the online platform, before it being withdrawn by the relevant Transmission System Operator.

We remain at your disposition to discuss those comments and proposals,

Best regards ,

Thomas CHEREAU
